Bill has responsibility for Atelier Ten's Glasgow Office. As a Chartered Building Services Engineer, he has experience of major public sector projects including schools, housing, hospitals, offices, shops and hotels. He contributes both to environmental strategies and the detailed design of buildings where his interest in low energy design combines with his experience of project delivery, producing an approach that is informed and innovative. His understanding of ever changing legislation has led to his participation on several industry committees where he advises on sustainability and carbon reduction issues.
